Accidents Over Week End Kill 22 In Michigan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Accidents claimed 22 lives in Michigan over a weekend that combined hot and sticky heat with severe storms.

Traffic crashes killed 13 victims; eight drowned and one man was killed by lightning.

A two-car collision Sunday night on US-2 about seven miles west of Manistique claimed the lives of three persons, one the superintendent of transportation for Algoma Steel Co. at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

The victims were R. B. Kosloskey, 64, of the Soo, Ont., and his passenger, Mrs. Angela Andrews, 67. William Parrish, 40, of Cooks, Mich., was alone in his car, state police said.

Drowning victims included Melvin Wook, 35, of Saginaw, who toppled from an outboard motor boat in Wixson Lake, Gladwin County.

Three members of one family perished in a single traffic accident Saturday night.

Francis F. Gallagher, 52, his wife, Agnes, 50, and her mother, Mrs. Josephine Coppey, 79, all of Drayton Plains, died in the collision near Flint.

The lightning victim was John Sablukis, 62, of near Luther in Lake County. He was struck down near his barn during a storm Saturday.

William R. Hurley, 54, of Holland, drowned in the Black River Saturday when a speedboat overturned in waves.

Raymond Sobleski, Jr., 7, of Boyne City, drowned Saturday in Deer Lake when a boat in which he was riding with his father and two other men capsized and sank. The men were rescued.

Fred D. Reilly, 26, of Vandercook Lake, a Jackson County deputy sheriff, was struck and killed by a car Saturday after he and another deputy had stopped another car that was weaving down a road. The other deputy, Donald Kellogg, 29, was injured seriously. The driver of the death car, Durwood Weaver, 19, was charged with involuntary manslaughter.

Crushed In Rides

Frank Kucharski, 34, of Garden City, was crushed against rocks in the Huron River rapids near Ann Arbor Saturday when he tried to rescue his niece from drowning. Others saved the girl.

Lester Leggs, 35, of Detroit, drowned in Lake Erie Saturday while on a fishing boat in which he was riding capsized. Another member of the party, George Smith, 36, of Melvindale, was missing. A third member, James L. Sexton, 41, of Detroit, was rescued after clinging to the overturned boat for 10 hours in the chilly water.

China Communists Hold 30 American Civilians In Jail

By EDDY GILMORE

GENEVA (AP)—The Chinese Communists confirmed today that they are holding 30 American civilians in prison, but said one civilian and a number of military personnel listed by the United States as detained were either dead or missing.

This information was passed on to the United States in the fourth meeting between representatives of the U.S. and Chinese Communist delegations on the exchange of detained persons.

The United States agreed to permit 15 detained Chinese nationals to leave the United States and return to the China mainland.

The Chinese, on their side, supplied preliminary information on the list of approximately 83 American civilian and military personnel believed by the United States either to be in prison or to be prevented from leaving China.

The Chinese said W. L. Winter, a missionary, had been arrested for espionage, but died in prison Feb. 27, 1951. Winter was a mission worker in a leprosarium in Kiangsi Province.

Council Calls For Cease-Fire In Guatemala

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Security Council called unanimously Sunday night for a cease-fire in Guatemala and for all U. N. members to withhold aid from the fighting forces there.

The action came after the Soviet Union cast its 60th veto in council history on behalf of Guatemala's leftist government. The veto defeated a motion to refer the Guatemalan complaint of aggression to the Western Hemisphere's regional organization, the Organization of American States (OAS).

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., council president for June, said the Soviet veto showed obviously the Russians have "designs" on the Americans. He warned angrily:

"I say to the Soviet delegate: Stay out of the Western Hemisphere. Don't try to start your plans and conspiracies here."

Despite the Russian vote, Guatemala has already asked the five-member inter-American Peace Committee of the OAS to help stop the invasion against President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's government. The committee scheduled a

Kansas Felons Kill Guard; 3 Wounded In Attempted Escape

LANSING, Kan. (AP)—Shielding themselves with six terrified prison visitors, six desperate convicts tried to force their way out of the Kansas State Prison Sunday.

State Police records show that on Aug. 25, 1951, George Roberts of the New York Giants, was injured Sunday night in an auto collision on the Saw Mill River Parkway involving his car and one driven by a parkway policeman. The policeman and three others also suffered slight injuries.

The patrolman, John Payton, 35, said he was making a left turn on the northbound lane of the parkway when Wilhelm's car, southbound, struck his vehicle.

Wilhelm suffered back injuries, lacerations and bruises of the right arm.

His wife, Peggy, 22, suffered leg lacerations, and another passenger, Jim Paterson, 29, Shelby, N.C., suffered back injuries. Payton suffered neck and rib injuries.

All were treated at Yonkers General Hospital and released.

On Saturday night, Wilhelm was arrested for speeding in Tarrytown, N. Y. He is scheduled to appear Wednesday in Tarrytown police court to answer the speeding charge.

As a result of the auto accident, Wilhelm received a summons for failing to yield the right of way to a police vehicle.

The warden got a rifle and stepped into the corridor again as armed guards approached the convicts from the yard in the rear.

The convicts started shooting but surrendered when the guards opened fire.

The wounded convicts were Lawton Ray Collins, 24, Kansas City, shot in the hip, and William Henry Parker, 24, Gage, Okla., wounded in a finger. The other convicts were Donald E. Davis, 27, Sturgis, Mich.; Emmett May, 34, Topeka, Kan.; Robert Leroy Knight, 24, Picher, Okla.; and James Tarr, 22, Ponca City, Okla.

Mrs. Frankie Scroggins, 26, Kansas City, was wounded in the shoulder.

Warden Edmondson said the six convicts would be charged with first-degree murder for Kenaga's slaying.

Senate Quizzers Try Again For Verdict In Army-McCarthy Scrap

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) summoned fellow investigating senators of the McCarthy-Army row for a second try today to see if they can all agree on at least part of their verdict.

Also called to the closed-door session was Tennessee lawyer Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel for the Senate Investigations subcommittee during its 36-day televised probe, who may get more work to do if it should turn out that the group's four Republican and three Democratic members see eye to eye in writing up a report.

Not Much Harmony

Harmony was noticeably absent after the first executive session Friday, at which Mundt announced the subcommittee had agreed in principle "to try to agree" for unanimity on at least some findings.

Right afterwards Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, senior Democrat and spokesman for his minority party colleagues, publicly demanded a "house cleaning" among staff members before the group undertakes any new investigations. Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), who as regular subcommittee chairman appointed its staff, reported that the Democratic demand was "clever, dishonest and extremely dangerous to the country."

Insurgent leaders claimed their forces were pushing ahead in a three-pronged drive aimed at key rail and road communications in the southern part of the country.

The possible new point of controversy—or at least a resurgence of an old one in the many-sided dispute—was tossed in the subcommittee's lap Sunday when H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense, demanded the group unanimously "dismiss the charges against me . . . with a severe rebuke to Sen. McCarthy."

Charges Baseless

Hensel contended McCarthy had admitted the charges were baseless.

Hensel started out as one of the principals accused by McCarthy and his aides of trying to use Pvt. G. David Schine as a "hostage" to sidetrack a subcommittee probe of alleged Reds in the Army. The (Please Turn To Page 6, Col. 1)

Nation Under Martial Law; Showdown Near

By SAM SUMMERLIN

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman of Guatemala proclaimed martial law throughout his invaded country today as his Communist-backed government mobilized for a showdown battle with anti-Red rebels.

Insurgent leaders claimed their forces were pushing ahead in a three-pronged drive aimed at key rail and road communications in the southern part of the country.

The martial law decree was announced late Sunday night after a government appeal for all private cars to be turned in for use in moving troops. Reports from Guatemala said the decisive phase of the battle for that neighboring Central American nation may come within 48 hours.

U. S. Citizens In Danger

Associated Press Correspondent Jack Rutledge, in Guatemala City, quoted Guatemalan army officers as saying no field action had yet been fought. They added, however, that a battle could not be delayed much longer.

The U. S. Embassy in Guatemala City announced it is making plans to evacuate wives and children of U. S. citizens. With a wave of anti-U. S. feeling sweeping the city, the embassy reportedly feared violence might break out against North Americans. There are about 1,200 U. S. citizens in Guatemala.

Planes Drop Arms

Another invading column reportedly was moving in from Macuelizo, Honduras, about 20 miles west of Puerto Barrios, Guatemala's chief Caribbean port.

The third was reported toward Zacapa, midway on the vital rail line between Puerto Barrios and Guatemala City.

Rebel sources said their planes

Mystery Surrounds Chicago Death Of Heir To Million, 20

CHICAGO (AP)—Authorities today intensified their investigation of the mysterious death of the 20-year-old heir to a million dollars after being told the young man revised his will recently to make his fiancee principal beneficiary and had expressed doubt he would live to come into his own inheritance.

Montgomery Ward Thorne was found dead in his studio apartment Saturday. Coroner Walter E. McCarron said there were four needle marks on his arms but no evidence he was a user of narcotics.

The coroner ordered an analysis of vital organs.

Girl's Home In Michigan

He said he also has sent investigators to Birmingham, Mich., to interview the 25-year-old daughter of a prominent Birmingham family. He said the girl, an art student, occupied an apartment adjoining Thorne's until Friday. McCarron did not name her.

Jay Stough, who said he had been young Thorne's lawyer for some time, told Detective Capt. Harry Penzini that Thorne less than 10 days ago changed his will to make Miss Maureen Ragen, 18, chief beneficiary and executor.

Penzini quoted Stough as saying Thorne, grandson of a former president of Montgomery Ward & Co., "was afraid he would never live to collect his inheritance. He asked me to assure that there would be a very thorough investigation . . . if he died."

Fortune At 35

Stough said Thorne would have begun receiving $1,000 a month income from the estate of his father, Gordon C. Thorne, after his 21st birthday in October. The father's will provided the income would jump to $3,000 a month at age 30 and the son would be allotted the principal of his inheritance—estimated at a million dollars—at age 35, the lawyer said.

Miss Ragen, to whom young Thorne's new will left half of his estate, is the granddaughter of the late James M. Ragen, racing news service publisher who was shot down by gang assassins in 1946. She lives with her mother, Aileen, who is divorced from James M. Ragen Jr. The new will directs the remainder of young Thorne's estate be divided among relatives, including one-eighth to his mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne, 179 E. Lake Shore Dr.

Flash Floods Hit More Iowa Cities

DES MOINES (AP)—Floods hit City, near the northern border, rode out flood crests and now face new crises. Today was the beginning of the second week of daily outbursts of thunderstorms, occasional hail and high winds ranging up to tornadic proportions. Rains have ranged to 10 inches and downpours of 5 inches or more have been common throughout the northwest and northern sectors.

Highways Blocked

Walthill and Winnebago, Neb., small towns south of Sioux City, Iowa, were flooded. Flood water in Nebraska blocked highways 275 near Norfolk and 35 at Winslow and was threatening the town of Pender. Two tornadoes were sighted in Nebraska but no damage was reported.

The storms brought only limited relief from the stagnant, sultry heat that in Chicago, on this first day of summer, approached a record 11 straight days of 90 degrees or higher. Similar readings or higher were the rule Sunday from the storm area southward to the Gulf, and were expected again today.

The western Dakotas, eastern Wyoming and northwest Nebraska were a bit cooler, but to the west and south it was even hotter. Sunday readings of 110 were common in the desert Southwest, and Yuma, Ariz., had 115.

Crop Loss In Millions

Most of northern Iowa was polka-dotted with small lakes created by torrential rains. Crop experts said damage would run into millions. Highway and rail traffic were interrupted at many points.

The north-central Iowa city of Fort Dodge was among the new flood emergency points. Sioux City, in western Iowa, and Mason

City, near the northern border, rode out flood crests and now face new crises.

Today was the beginning of the second week of daily outbursts of thunderstorms, occasional hail and high winds ranging up to tornadic proportions. Rains have ranged to 10 inches and downpours of 5 inches or more have been common throughout the northwest and northern sectors.

Fire Destroys Deneau Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Deneau, located $\frac{1}{4}$ mile east of U. S. 2 on County road F-6 in the village of Masonville was destroyed by fire about 6 p.m. Sunday under circumstances being investigated today, according to Gladstone State Police.

The house was completely destroyed and all furnishings and personal effects were lost.

Mrs. Deneau was alone at the time the fire started and was removed from the home by William King, a neighbor who saw the smoke and investigated. King was assisted by Raymond Navela of Marquette.

The fire was out of control when the Rapid River and Gladstone fire departments arrived and it was ascertained that the fire started in a shed at the side of the home.

The fire marshal from Marquette is to be in Masonville to conduct an investigation.

A Masonville man is being held in jail in connection with the investigation. No complaint has been made against him and no warrant has been issued, officers said.

Advisory Ballot On Fire Truck

An advisory ballot will be offered to the people of the Escanaba Township at the August primary election to determine a vote of confidence in the action taken by the Escanaba Township Board when they made a down payment of $1800 on a new fire truck, it was reported by William Beauchamp, township clerk.

At a special meeting of the Board, called by the clerk, the Board voted to submit the issue to the people in the August primary election.

Approximately 120 residents of Escanaba township attended the meeting Friday night.

The fire truck will cost over $10,000. Township residents in attendance were for and against the purchase of the vehicle. Also attending the meeting were the Escanaba and Gladstone fire chiefs who pointed out that priority would be given to their cities and that it would be a good idea if the township could have its own fire apparatus.

Suit Started On Air School

By DREW PEARSON

With a score or more American cities bidding for the new Air Force academy, one city, Lake Geneva, Wis., definitely doesn't want to be the site of the new West Point for the Air Force. So emphatic are its residents that they have filed suit in the U. S. District Court in Washington to enjoin Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott against selecting Lake Geneva.

What happened was that when a delegation of Lake Geneva citizens called on Talbott, he refused to hear them.

"I am not going to listen," Talbott told the group. "I'm fed up with this whole business. I'm not interested in what you have to say and I'm not going to accept it verbally or in documentary form."

The delegation was composed of John McCollow, attorney; Curtis McKay, prominent resident of Lake Geneva; and Franklin Walsh, a leading dairy farmer.

Having been rebuffed by Secretary Talbott, they went down to court and filed suit to prevent him from selecting Lake Geneva, on the ground that he behaved "in an arbitrary and capricious manner in refusing to receive information" from them.

Talbott's choice for the Air Force academy has now narrowed down to Colorado Springs, Colo.; Alton, Ill., and Lake Geneva. In visiting these sites, he was entertained in Lake Geneva by a delegation of merchants in what is known as the city of Lake Geneva. This, according to the delegation which visited Washington, is composed of about 4,200 people, chiefly merchants, most of whom do want the Air Force academy located there.

However, these 4,200 people, according to the delegation, do not represent the 20,000 people in the surrounding area, which is largely a resort community, of whom the majority feel that the Air Force academy would completely change and spoil the area.

Those who filed the suit claimed that Talbott was taken into camp by Lawrence Whiting, president of the Chicago Furniture Mart and a resident of Lake Geneva, who told Talbott that the majority of people there want it. Whiting has been in touch with Talbott frequently and helped arrange for Talbott's visit to the Wisconsin resort area.

The delegation which enjoined Talbott in federal court pointed out among other things that the land in Lake Geneva is expensive and for the Air Force to acquire property in that area would cost some $12,000,000. On the other hand, the people of Colorado Springs are willing to give the Air Force land free; so the Wisconsinites hope the Air Force will go west rather than linger along Lake Michigan.

If secretary Talbott does not agree, he may be in for an interesting court battle.

The Hows And Whys Of Moth Repellents

by Melton McGovern

Funeral services for Joseph Fish of Detroit, former resident of Wells, will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday at St. Patrick's Church with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin B. Melican officiating at the Requiem High Mass. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery. The rosary will be recited at 8 this evening at the Allo Funeral Home.

The delegation which enjoined Talbott in federal court pointed out among other things that the land in Lake Geneva is expensive and for the Air Force to acquire property in that area would cost some $12,000,000. On the other hand, the people of Colorado Springs are willing to give the Air Force land free; so the Wisconsinites hope the Air Force will go west rather than linger along Lake Michigan.

If secretary Talbott does not agree, he may be in for an interesting court battle.

Another reason that moth repellents are not always absolutely effective is that not all moth repellent solutions are equally as good. Even a good cleaner may "moth proof" a garment in all good faith. But if the solution is not the best, the protection you get is your own illusory peace of mind.

Still another good reason why moth repellents sometimes fail to do a job is that the stuff wears off after a time. You can't expect to "moth proof" a garment this week, and have it remain effective forever. The "moth proofing" must be renewed from time to time for maximum effectiveness.

That is why damage sometimes occurs on garments which have been "moth proofed".

For good cleaning and as good "moth proofing" as can be had.

New Court House Urged At County Board Meet

Prospects for construction of a new court house for Delta county were brought to the fore in the course of the meeting of the county board of supervisors which opened its session this morning.

Tempest Over Dogs

Near the outset of the supervisors' meeting, a lively discussion was caused by the matter of damage by dogs in Wells township. Andrew Schwartz, a commercial fisherman, had asked that an investigation of damage done when some stray dogs had chewed up some of his nets. A representative of the sheriff's office was sent out, reported and recommended that the county pay the harm done.

Prosecuting Attorney Nick Chapekis stated that the county could not legally reimburse Schwartz for the damage.

Swartz was asked who owned the dogs and he stated that he did not know. He stated that he thought that those who had authority to license all dogs and destroy all unlicensed dogs had been remiss in their duties.

The Supervisors voted the establishment of a dog warden in the county empowered to take drastic action.

School Allocation

An opinion by the state attorney general dealing with allocation of taxes touching on fractional school district units, was read. While it did not touch on any district in this area, it had to do with situations similar to that of the Harris-Bark River district where the district lies partially in Delta and partly in Menominee county. Supers voted that a committee be appointed during the session to investigate and find out if pos-

Statement At Close Of McCarthy-Army Hearing Spotlights Sen. Potter

By JOHN CHADWICK

Washington (AP) — Charles Edward Potter, 37-year-old Republican senator from Michigan, has two canes he sometimes calls his "whistle sticks."

The canes, made of a transparent plastic and rigged up with batteries and bulbs, light up when he presses a button. Potter, a legless World War II veteran, jokes about them being handy for flagging down taxies.

But the senator needed no "whistle sticks" to catch the eye when he set off a thunderbolt at the end of the tumultuous hearings into the charges exchanged by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Secretary of the Army Stevens and their aides.

Propose Firing

Potter let loose with a statement saying he was convinced the testimony bore out "the principal accusation of each side."

What's more, he said, the testimony was "saturated" with untruths and, if put before a grand jury, he believed "a criminal case against some of the principals might be developed."

Potter said he would propose the dismissal of those employees who have played top roles on both sides."

How did he happen to make his statement—an unexpected climax to 36 days of hearings in which, as a member of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, he had voted with his Republican colleagues on all the disputes that arose?

The chain-smoking senator four packs of cigarettes a day said he had written it in his office the night before.

Statement Surprise

He said he didn't consult with anyone about it, that he just expressed the convictions that churned up within him after listening to the mass of testimony. "I meant what I said," Potter said.

Potter gave copies of his statement to newsmen but did not read it in the final moments of the hearings when other subcommittee members were saying their farewells. "I didn't know we were going to have hearts and flowers," he said. "It was no place for any statement."

If the Michigan Republican should line up with Democrats on issues still to be settled, his vote could be decisive on the seven-member subcommittee.

Potter, elected to the Senate in 1952 and its third youngest member, is a man who makes light of his own physical handicaps but who is described by close associates as deeply sympathetic with others similarly disabled.

Lost Legs In War

He wears horned-rimmed glasses, has thinning black hair, accepts jokes in good spirit and tells jokes on himself.

One he tells is about an occasion when he was deer hunting and the ground was covered with snow. In contrast to the heavy boots worn by his companions, he had on a pair of light rubbers.

A stranger came along as Potter was sitting and waiting hopefully for sight of a deer. "Good Lord," exclaimed the stranger, "aren't your feet frozen?"

"Nope," Potter replied. "They raise 'em tough where I come from."

Potter lost his legs at the end of January, 1945, when the allied armies were pushing the Nazis back across France. In the early morning darkness he was leading a patrol assigned to wipe out a German machine-gun nest. He leaped from the top of a dike and came down on a land mine the retreating Germans had left behind.

Bravery Honored

Potter enlisted in May, 1942, as a private, leaving at home his wife, the former Lorraine Eddy of Cheboygan, Mich.

When he was discharged from the Army as a major in July, 1946, he had been awarded the Silver Star for bravery, the Bronze Star for valor, the French Croix De Guerre with Silver Star, and the Purple Heart with two clusters.

Twice before the German mine blew up beneath him, he had been wounded—one in the shoulder and once when he had his upper lip torn open by shrapnel.

The mine explosion cost Potter his left leg from the hip down and his right leg below the knee.

He was outfitted with new legs, three inches shorter than his own legs so that it would be easier for him to keep his balance as he learned to walk again. He now stands 5 feet 7 1/2 inches and weighs around 155 pounds.

Son Of Farmer

While Potter was being fitted with a leg at the Army's Walter Reed hospital here, he spent many hours in the galleries of the House and Senate watching Congress in action.

He says that ever since I was "that high"—holding his hand not far above the floor—he wanted to be a member of Congress.

Son of a Michigan potato grower, Potter was born at Lapeer Mich., Oct. 30, 1916. His mother was active in local politics and Potter says it was from her that became interested in public life at an early age.

The family was hit hard by the depression, and Potter worked as a waiter, in canneries and sawmills and did other odd jobs while he attended high school and Michigan State Normal College, where he majored in sociology.

Except for not driving a car, Potter says he leads a life about like anyone else despite the loss of his legs.

"You can adjust to anything if you'll really try," he once said.

F. J. Mattson, Former Kipling Man, Is Dead

F. Julius Mattson, 120 Baraga Ave. L'Anse, a former Kipling resident, died Friday night at the Baraga County Hospital where he had been a patient six days. He was in ill health for six months.

Mr. Mattson was born Sept. 13, 1894, in Finland and had lived in L'Anse since 1921. He had worked for the Ford Motor Company for about 25 years and was a Justice of the Peace, a member of the Eagles Lodge and a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

TV Antenna Put On Tower

Completion of this area's new NBC television station was a step nearer this week when WMBV-TV's Channel 11 antenna was hoisted to the top of the station's 500 foot tower.

WMBV's transmitter and antenna system are located about three miles north of Oconto on the shores of Green Bay. The top of the antenna is 583 feet above the ground and will radiate an effective power of 115,000 watts. The station's primary coverage area will include points within a 70 mile radius from the tower.

As soon as WMBV is on the air, application will be made for an increase in power to nearly 300,000 watts and an increase in antenna height to 813 feet, giving still better reception to fringe areas beyond the station's initial primary coverage.

One of the most difficult parts of the erection job was hoisting the 4-ton, 12-bay antenna, with all its fragile electronic equipment, to the top of the 500 foot tower. The complete tower and antenna assembly weighs over 34 tons.

Two micro-wave tower links are now under construction: One will link the transmitter with WMBV's studios in Radio-Television Park, Marinette. The other will connect with the coast-to-coast facilities of the NBC network at Milwaukee.

WMBV's television studios in Marinette have been completed for some time, and television films of station artists have been under production since June 1.

Unfortunately, We Cannot Close Our Eyes To French Politics

In the disgusting manner in which politics is played in France, it would be well if we in this country could wash our hands completely of the French situation and let the French people worry about it alone.

Unfortunately, the world is too small for that. What France does, particularly in foreign affairs, affects us, too. That is why we have been financing the French defense of Indo China.

Now France has a new premier, Pierre Mendes-France, a political unknown who has promised that he will get a cease-fire in Indo China by July 20 or get out of office.

The implication, of course, is that France is so anxious to wind up the Indo China fiasco that it will do most anything to end the war. The new premier has created an impossible situation for himself and his country. And in so doing he has gravely complicated our own efforts to prevent the spread of Communism in Southeast Asia.

By establishing a deadline for an agreement to end the Indo China fighting, Premier Mendes-France has, in effect, made his task a hopeless one. The Communists almost certainly will delay peace talks until the deadline nears in the hope of forcing ridiculous terms upon Mendes-France. And if the new premier wants peace bad enough, he may accept them.

Indo China is the trouble spot of the world today. It is not the problem of France alone and we know it. If we did not we would hardly be paying out three quarters of a billion dollars a year to combat the Communist aggression. If all of Indo China falls to the Reds, a not impossible development in view of the official attitude of the new French government, we can anticipate constantly increasing troubles with Communism in Southeast Asia and perhaps elsewhere in the world as well.

What happens in Southeast Asia in the critical weeks ahead may well determine whether or not we will get into a shooting war again with the Communists. That is why we cannot ignore French politics, disgusting as they are to us.

British-U. S. Meeting Signals New Alliance

THE coming visit to Washington of Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden does not appear to reflect any new, "secret" emergency that only top U. S. and British leaders know of. It is, rather, a wholly logical development following from the continuing crisis of the free nations in Asia.

The day the White House announced the Churchill-Eden visit, Sir Winston rose in the House of Commons and pronounced the Geneva conference deadlocked.

He did not attach the word "failure," but he might well have. If it were anything else, he and Eden would not perhaps be making the Washington journey.

While no agenda is announced for the meetings with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, it is widely assumed that they signal Britain's acceptance of the idea that a new alliance of free forces must be erected in Asia to bulwark the democracies against advancing communism.

Since neither the United States nor Britain has given any sign of plunging into the Indo-China war, any new alignment presumably must contemplate a defensive line that does not necessarily include that embattled land.

That does not mean we have abandoned France in Indo-China. We have made plain we intend to go on aiding the French militarily so long as they fight. But we have not committed our two countries to saving Indo-China.

We are leaving the French to fight on, or to make the best deal they can with ruthless Communist leaders bent on pressuring their advantage to the limit.

The absence of France at the coming Washington meetings is significant. The last time Sir Winston and Mr. Eisenhower met, French Premier Joseph Laniel was also present.

Though the current omission is cloaked by calling the new conference "informal," the fact is it accurately mirrors the existing realities of free world power.

That power, and the capacity for initiative and decision, seem to reside now solely with Britain and America. If these two can construct the framework of an Asiatic "NATO," many others may be drawn in, including Asian peoples.

France, slipping deeper into the bog of indecision, defeat and despair, can no longer be looked to for a central role in the struggle.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—The growing of certified seed potatoes in Delta county, still far from the accent falls on the last syllable of the word, double the final consonant before adding the suffix. Otherwise, no. With this rule learned, you will see why "benefited" "Differed" from "dropped" and "occurred."

College librarians of my acquaintance repeatedly complain that incoming freshmen don't know how to use encyclopedias and dictionaries because they have never been taught the alphabet "the old-fashioned way." And it is likewise axiomatic with Freshman English instructors that a majority of their pupils come to them ignorant of what constitutes a simple declarative sentence.

So it's not surprising that many of the letters I receive ask for rules of spelling and grammar. One young mother, for example, writes that her children are constantly asking her "How do you spell such-and-such a word?" and she ruefully admits she is often at a loss for an answer. "What's the rule," she writes, "on when you double a final consonant before adding -ed, -ing or other endings?"

That one, as it happens, is quite simple compared to some other spelling problems. If the word has only one syllable or if the accent falls on the last syllable of the word, double the final consonant before adding the suffix. Otherwise, no. With this rule learned, you will see why "benefited" "Differed" from "dropped" and "occurred."

Another problem, she confesses, is why such words as "noticeable" and "peaceful" keep the final silent "e" of the root word when "able" is added. True, the general rule is to drop a final silent "e" when the suffix begins with a vowel, but when the root word ends in "-ce" (as "peace" or "notice") or in "-ge" ("outrage," and "courage") the "e" is retained.

Remember, too: every rule has its exceptions—and the best and safest guide is a reliable standard dictionary.

The Doctor Says . . .

'Scrub Typhus' Is Not Found On This Continent Ordinarily

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A complicated subject is raised by Mrs. L. who asks for a discussion of "scrub typhus." She says, "Why isn't the public warned about it coming into the country in packages from the Orient? Why is the Health Department so hush-hush about it?"

First, there is no need to warn the public of the danger of contracting "scrub typhus" in packages coming from the Orient, since the disease is not spread in that way and, therefore, there is no risk involved.

THIS HAPPENED to some extent during the war and among Americans at the San-Sapor Beachhead in the southwest Pacific when 403 men of one regiment suffered from the disease within 20 days after landing.

SECONDLY, SO far as I know, there is no intention on the part of any Health Department to conceal the facts about the disease known as "scrub typhus."

This disease—which also carries several other names—is caused by a small living organism belonging to the Rickettsia group other members of which are responsible for Rocky Mountain spotted fever, other kinds of typhus and several other diseases.

THE DISEASE is not native to the North American continent and, in fact, is found only in certain regions of Japan, Formosa, the Philippines, Malaya, Indo-China, Burma, India and some other places in these general areas.

The responsible organism is transmitted to human beings when one stage of a mite attaches itself to a human being. The disease is acquired, therefore, only when the mite is present at the right stage and is infected. Therefore, it is not a problem on the North American continent except when military personnel or civilians become exposed in areas where the circumstances are right for infection.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It may make some people unhappy to have it published, but the White House recently received a confidential memo telling how thoroughly all Democrats had been purged from the U. S. Information Office and how Harry Truman's picture definitely was not shown on U. S. Information bulletin boards abroad.

Reason for the memo was a complaint from good old speaker Joe Martin that the U. S. Information offices were still harboring Democrats and were even flaunting Harry Truman's picture overseas. Republican congressmen used this as an excuse to cut the Information Office's budget by $13,000,000—a drastic cut at a time when Soviet propaganda offices are spending money by the basketful.

So the White House asked for a report and got back this word:

"With respect to the Acheson speeches and Truman-Acheson pictures reportedly on display at our posts in Spain," defends the memo, "we have talked personally with our public affairs officer, Bill Cody, in Madrid. He swears that they have had no Acheson materials for distribution anywhere in the country since the present administration came in. They have had no picture displays of Truman or Acheson anywhere. There were displays of Marshall's picture at the time he won the Nobel peace prize last year. It is just possible that Truman might have been in one of the pictures with Marshall, but he knows of no such instance. Cody is one of our best men and definitely not an egghead."

The memo is dated May 11, 1954, and signed by Abbott Washburn, the agency's deputy director, former executive of General Mills, Inc., and national director of the Citizens for Eisenhower during the 1952 campaign.

In the secret memo, Washburn states: "Better than 5,000 people have been dropped from this agency since the Eisenhower administration took over on January 20, 1953. Some 2,300 of these were Americans. The rest were local nationals. In other words, we got rid of almost half of the total number of Americans formerly employed. I doubt whether any other agency in Washington has dismissed, percentage-wise, more employees than we have."

"To say 'They have not cleaned house—it is the same old personnel' is just not true," Washburn laments.

"In order for the agency to reflect administration Republican policy," the memo continues, "we set about the difficult task of filling as many senior executive posts as possible which qualified Republicans."

The attached list of senior officers of the agency reveals an overwhelming preponderance of Republicans. There are no Democrats among them. Three are government career men with absolutely no political coloration. One is an independent. We are proud of the high caliber of this team. They are definitely not the same old crowd of New Deal sympathizers!" To suggest such a thing is extremely unfair to what Ted Streibert (the director) has accomplished in the nine months he has been here."

Note—Originally this political purge was ordered to appease Senator McCarthy, who sent his two junior G-men, Roy Cohn and Dave Schine, on a barnstorming trip through Europe to investigate America's information program.

FARM LEADERS' HANDOUTS
It now develops that certain prominent leaders have been collecting soil conservation payments for their own farms at the same time they have been denouncing those payments.

Of all the farm leaders, Farm Bureau president Alain Kline has been the loudest in attacking the soil conservation program.

"Payments for practices which have become normal and accepted part of farming operations . . . should be discontinued," he told Congress with ringing righteousness. "Farmers recognize that the practice of adding fertilizers to tillable acres is a necessary and profitable expenditure for obtaining increased production. Payments should be discontinued on those practices."

Yet the confidential records at the Agriculture Department show that Kline has been taking handouts for these very practices. In 1947 he collected $231.91 for contouring corn and spreading fertilizer on his farm in Benton County, Iowa. In 1948 he accepted another $113.08 for plowing under green manure. In 1949 he applied for $234 for fertilizer practices and another $54 for other conservation steps. This was prorated down to $212.14. Again in 1950 he collected $247.14 for spreading lime and fertilizer. His total application in 1951 was for $307.20, but this was reduced to $281.43.

MORE FARM PAYMENTS
The same pattern has been followed by other farm leaders, including national Grange head Herschel Newsom, who testified on Capitol Hill: "We feel that there is little justification for making (soil conservation) payments to the farmers who would automatically carry out necessary conservation practices at a profit to themselves without incentive payments. The inability of low-income farmers to finance these practices has been used as an argument for direct subsidy payments, but we cannot solve basic farm problems by putting farmers on a dole. We recommend elimination of the present system."

Yet Newsom has been accepting subsidies for his own 492-acre farm in Bartholomew County, Ind., ever since 1943. He collected $216.44 in 1943, and submitted applications each year thereafter. In 1949, for example, he collected $105.25. In 1950 he accepted $199.05. In 1951 his mother, Mrs. Nellie Newsom, made out the application and got $90.

FOR THE MACHINISTS: A handsome $2½ million structure.

There are several unions, including the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, looking for possible headquarters sites here.

When this major shift of unions to Washington is complete it will bring close to 45 of them within the District of Columbia. Together they will represent an estimated 1,000,000 workers.

As an investment for its surplus funds the AFL Electrical Workers Union has built a huge, swank 656-unit apartment building near the heart of town. It also has a valuable space for offices and stores.

The International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers and the Milk Drivers Local Union 246 are two more unions planning headquarters here.

Topping all of these real estate holdings, however, is John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers Union. Not including a bank which Lewis is seeking to control, his UMW owns seven large buildings in the city.

Keep this in mind, we have in the White House a man who believes in constitutional methods. We are not going to get into a war without Congress having something to say about it.—GOP Chairman Hall.

Unions Build Plush Command Posts In Washington, D.C.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The nation's labor leaders are getting themselves some plush command and observation posts in town for keeping a close eye on the administration and government.

Dave Beck, for instance, head of the large AFL International Union of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers will soon move into a new $4 million marble headquarters with a clear uninterrupted view of the Capitol.

Beck's private suite has a giant picture window facing the Senate side. It's close enough for him to read the fine print on any labor legislation with low-powered binoculars merely by twisting his leather swivel chair.

In fact, every member on Beck's staff can spend lunch hours and coffee breaks watching congressional antics. On top of the new building will be a penthouse with sun deck, snack bar, lounge and ping pong tables.

Other features of the building include inside parking facilities, a large auditorium with a telephone system connecting each seat—comparable to the set-up in the UN—a restaurant and kitchens and complete conference suites.

Beck had hoped to have the formal opening this Labor Day with President Eisenhower attending. But Ike is going to be out of town and the building won't be quite finished so they're going to have the ceremonies in October.

George Meany, president of the parent AFL, is getting himself a new headquarters across Lafayette Square from the White House. His suite will have a large balcony almost close enough for a good mashie shot at Ike's bedroom window.

The AFL headquarters will also have auditoriums and conference rooms, and office space for the other AFL affiliates which don't already have headquarters here.

Five other large union organizations are either building new Washington headquarters, planning to move here soon, or buying new buildings to house their staffs.

It all adds up to an estimated $15 million real estate investment.

Some significance is attached to the fact that the Retail Clerks International Association, AFL, has purchased a large new building right across the street from the popular Mayflower Hotel cocktail lounge. A lot of semi-official government and legislative business is said to be carried on that hotel.

The AFL headquarters will also have auditoriums and conference rooms, and office space for the other AFL affiliates which don't already have headquarters here.

When this major shift of unions to Washington is complete it will bring close to 45 of them within the District of Columbia. Together they will represent an estimated 1,000,000 workers.

INDUSTRIAL CASUALTIES—The average industrial executive is too fat, has poor hearing, high blood pressure, abnormalities of heart and lungs, and dies earlier than he should.

So reports Factory Management magazine in a special report on the health of executives.

The findings will surprise few industrialists, because they have lived with themselves and their jobs too long not to know that management as well as labor has its health problems. The only difference is that executives' lives are usually shorter than those of the hired hands in the shop.

Industry has eliminated many of the occupational hazards of its employees and by and large workers are now safer on their jobs in the factory than they are in their hours of leisure.

But no one has yet solved the problem of protecting an industrial executive from his occupational hazards—nervous strain, long hours that go far beyond the 40-hour week, too little exercise, and hypertension that may bring the abnormalities of heart and lungs.

Sunday Hunting Tabled In MUCC

PETOSKEY (P)—The Michigan United Conservation Club MUCC voted Friday to postpone action on a controversial request to the Legislature to open 13 southern Michigan counties to Sunday hunting.

The MUCC tabled the request 10 to 6 and put back into the hopper a motion adopted Thursday. The action followed an appeal to reconsider by Charles Roberts of Kent City, who said he felt more time should be spent discussing it with farmers before acting.

A trout program adopted will ask for an immediate decrease in artificial propagation to release funds for stream improvement work; extend experimental trout fishing; change trout regulations only when evidence shows need; defer all restrictive regulations on streams until convincing proof is presented; conduct mortality studies to determine whether restrictions are needed on the size of hooks; plant no trout within half a mile of waters closed to public fishing.

Sunday is the final day of the MUCC convention.

Resolutions adopted included: that every elementary and secondary school and every high and vocational school shall offer adequate instructions in conservation, that state teachers colleges and county normal schools provide instructions in conserving of resources; amend present law to make it unlawful to dump or release raw, untreated sewage into any public waters; amend law on lake levels to place authority with conservation commission instead of board of supervisors and Circuit Court; full support of the use of state prisoners in camps supervised by the conservation department.

Maine Senator Says McCarthy Is Opposing Her

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Maine puts its vote on the line today in a primary in which Sen. Margaret Chase Smith contends that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) apparently planted the man opposing her.

That is the closest Mrs. Smith has come to openly accusing the Red-hunting Wisconsin Senator of attempting to engineer her defeat in the Republican senatorial primary.

And it was her nearest approach to a direct attack on her competitor, Robert L. Jones.

Jones is a McCarthy supporter. Mrs. Smith definitely is not.

Mrs. Smith had spoken of McCarthy in an earlier TV interview with commentator-columnist Drew Pearson that was filmed several days ago in Washington.

Jones followed through by saying Pearson was "brought in here to try and ruin me."

The race between the 56-year-old senator and the 34-year-old Jones, a novice in politics, is the only state-wide contest in today's primaries.

A Jones victory would be a tremendous upset and political forecasters around the state picked Mrs. Smith as an easy 3-1 or 4-1 winner.

Both candidates for governor are unopposed. Gov. Burton M. Cross on the Republican ticket and Edmund S. Muskie of Waterville, Democratic.

charges named Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams, with Hensel listed as mastermind of the accusations brought by the Army side against McCarthy.

The Army accused McCarthy, subcommittee counsel Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr, subcommittee chief of staff, of having sought by improper means to win favored Army treatment for Schine a former subcommittee aide.

Midway in the hearings the senators on a straight party-line vote, 4-3, dismissed Hensel and Carr as principals without expressing formal findings as to the charges against them.

Cost Around $22,000

Mundt, who is heading the group to McCarthy's stand for purposes of the inquiry, said he wants Jenkins on hand at today's session because the special counsel may be asked to work up those parts of the report where there is overall agreement.

Mundt announced further that he is calling on the special staff for a quick report on costs of the long inquiry. The subcommittee already has voted to ask the Senate to reimburse its $214,000 1954 operating fund for whatever it cost to explore the McCarthy-Army case.

One subcommittee staff aide, declining to be quoted by name, said the total cost might run "in the neighborhood of $22,000."

Lutheran Synod Criticizes Method Of Hunting Reds

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Augustana Lutheran Church closed its 95th annual synod Sunday with the ordination of 80 young men after it had attacked what it called improper methods of combating the evils of communism.

A resolution adopted Saturday by the convention said that if unchecked these methods "may develop into a tyranny that will not only shatter American ideals of liberty and freedom but will also ultimately prevent the full and free proclamation of the Christian gospel."

No individual or group was named in the resolution, but a spokesman said it was the delegates' general view that they referred chiefly to tactics of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), chairman of the Senate subcommittee on investigations.

Attending the meeting were 500 delegates from 34 states and Canada, representing about 500,000 members of the church. It is the fifth largest of Lutheran groups.

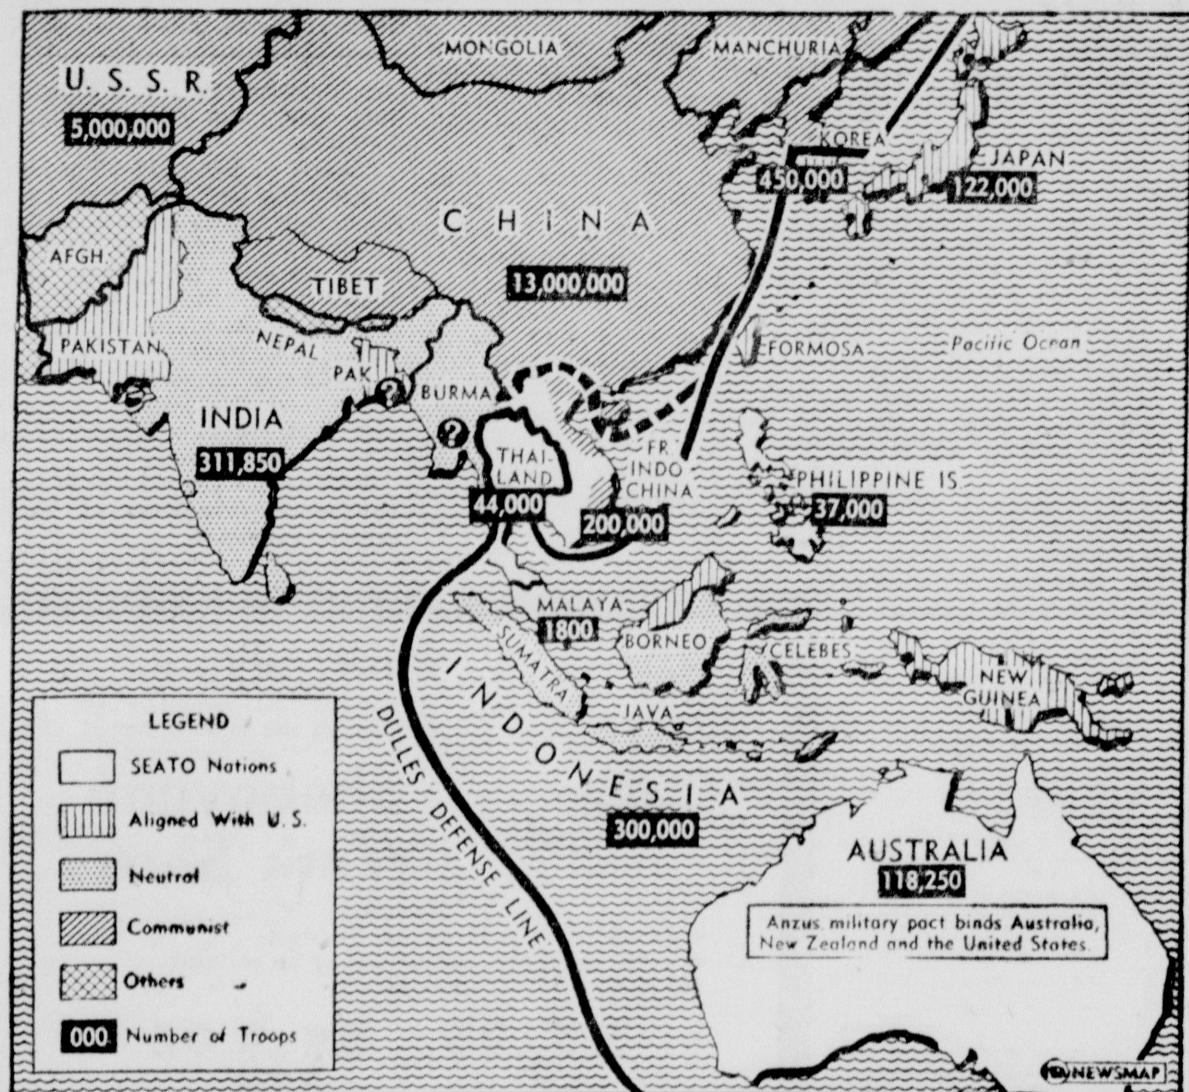

Wrigley Widow Lives As Medical Miracle

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A doctor says it is a "medical miracle" that after 6½ years of unconsciousness Mrs. Ada Wrigley, widow of William Wrigley Jr., of baseball and chewing game fame, is still alive.

Mrs. Wrigley, who keeps her age a secret but is believed to be 83 or 84, suffered a stroke at her mansion here Dec. 23, 1947. She has been in a coma since and is almost completely paralyzed.

Dr. William G. Hibbs, her Chicago physician, said: "It is the medical miracle of my life, and, so far as I know, is alone in the literature of medicine."

FENCE' FOR UNITED FRONT AGAINST REDS

—One of the important items which Prime Minister Churchill and Anthony Eden will discuss when they meet with President Eisenhower will be creation of SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) to curb any further Red aggression in Asia. Also included is the new Dulles defense line running from the northern tip of Japan and including all the island chains, including the East Indies. Indo-China will be included in the defense pattern if she requests it or if China commits "open military aggression." Map shows defensive strength in Asia.

Eisenhower To Ask Churchill's Backing In Asia Peace Move

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower probably will urge British Prime Minister Churchill to cooperate in setting up an international conference on anti-Communist defenses in Southeast Asia against communism when the two meet here next weekend.

Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden are due in Friday. Their talks with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles will be informal and, aides indicate, as secret as possible.

Indochina First

The Indochina crisis is the No. 1 topic. Others include the organization of a European Defense Community and atomic energy problems.

U. S. officials said that the American government is still generally interested getting a united front of Allied European and Asian nations set up to halt Communist expansion in the Indochina area. They think a conference would be useful to that end.

Until about two days ago authorities figured Britain would most likely go along on some move toward creation of a Southeast Asian alliance. That estimate was based on the official belief that Britain had decided the Geneva conference would fail to produce peace in Indochina.

But on Friday and Saturday, France organized a new government which staked its existence on getting an Indochina peace in 30 days. Then the Reds at Geneva offered new concessions to keep the talks going and agreed to military rejoinement of twin Red River channels.

Small French naval gunboats from midstream pumped machine-guns fire into the villages while planes and artillery pounded them with high explosives. Then Vietnamese infantry units, supported by light tanks, smashed their way through the villages one by one.

Elsewhere in the delta, small patrol clashes flared during the night in a dozen different areas, some less than 10 miles from Hanoi.

A French spokesman said the raiders pushed through eight villages Sunday on the south banks of the Red River, between Hanoi and son Tay.

More villages were under fire today. The villages are on what is known as Vancoc Island, a several-mile long sliver of land formed by a split and eventual rejoinement of twin Red River channels.

A year or so ago Churchill was quite interested in the possibility of taking West Germany directly into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as a possible alternative to EDC. At Bermuda last December he dropped his advocacy of that in favor of pressing hard for EDC, which Eisenhower was then insisting upon.

President Arbenz reportedly has taken personal charge of defense strategy. It was speculated the taking-over of private automobiles could mean he plans to emulate the famous "taxicab army" which France rushed up to defend the Marne River during World War I.

There was no immediate reaction to diplomatic developments at the United Nations and elsewhere on Guatemala's charge it is the victim of aggression.

Soren Johnson Rescues Boy From Harbor Water

Jay Knutsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Knutsen, 417 S. 10th St., had a narrow escape from drowning Saturday afternoon when he went into the harbor while riding his bike but quick action by Soren Johnson, local service station operator, who was at the harbor at the time, saved the youngster.

Jay was riding his bike along the plank walk on the eastern side of the harbor when for some unaccountable reason he went off the edge and into the water.

Johnson, who was at his boat, heard screams and ran to aid the boy and despite a fall when he tripped on a line tying up a boat in which he injured a hand and ribs he was able to hold off the child and get him out of the water.

Trooper Charles Weirman, Michigan State Police, who was at the harbor, also ran to the scene and he later recovered Jay's bicycle with the aid of a grapple hook.

X-rays taken of Johnson's injuries revealed no fractures although they are extremely painful.

Esky Cubs Serve Notice By Trimming Stephenson, 10-2

The Esky Cubs served notice on the Waubung League teams by handing defending champion Stephenson at 10-2 lacing behind three-hit pitching by John Berrian here yesterday.

Both teams tallied in the first inning and the Cubs took a 2-1 lead in the third when Berrian, on when Winters muffed his grounder at shortstop, pilfered second and scored on a double off the bat of Cliff O'Donnell.

The Cubs picked up two runs in each of the fifth and sixth innings and then batted around for four more in the eighth.

Berrigan, Bob Dubord, Bucky Flath and Dave Vian cracked singles in the big eighth.

The Cubs collected nine hits off Jim Strohl and Mike Aman. Flath led the way with three singles. O'Donnell's double was the only extra base blow of the game.

Berrigan whiffed six batsmen and walked four. Strohl and Aman combined to strike out six and walk three.

The victory was the second straight this season for the Cubs

Camps Whiffs 17 As Cornell Tops Garden

Charley Camps scattered seven hits and fanned 17 yesterday as Cornell notched its fourth straight Bay de Noc League victory over Garden, 3-1.

The game went into the bottom of the seventh inning tied at 1-1 when Camps cinched his win by singling to score Franny Lanier who had been hit by Dick Kauthen, starting Garden hurler. Kauthen was relieved by Jack Morin who walked Rodger Morin to load the bases. Gerald Morin then worked Morin for a base on balls to force in Don King with an insurance run to make it 3-1. Kauthen and Morin limited Cornell to four hits, two of them by King. Morin collected three of Garden's seven hits off Camps.

Pinch Homers Help As Giants Tip Cardinals

By JACK HAND

AP Sports Writer

Warren Giles' embargo on the $100 home run bonus came just in time to save Leo Durocher a lot of money.

Sunday two Giant pinch hitters, Bobby Hofman and Dusty Rhodes, tied a record by hitting pinch homers in the same inning of New York's 7-6 victory over St. Louis. Wes Westrum also homered in the sixth inning and Al Dark hit one earlier.

If Giles hadn't sounded a warning, Leo probably still would be handing out $100 bills as he did last week to Bill Taylor and Hank Thompson.

Lead Is Trimmed

The Giant homers Sunday routed Vic Raschi and hung a defeat on Cot Deal. But the New Yorkers' lead was sliced to one half game by Brooklyn's double victory.

The Dodgers again fell back on relief pitching as they knocked off Chicago twice, 6-4 and 6-3. Clem Labine bailed out the first game and Bob Milliken and Ben Wade held the fort in the second after Billy Loes left.

For the first time since Sept. 6, 1953, Pittsburgh actually won a double-header, downing Milwaukee 2-1 in 10 innings when Lew Burdette hit Curt Roberts with a pitched ball with the bases loaded. Gair Allie's three-run homer gave the Pirates the second game, 6-3 over Bob Buhl.

Big First Inning

Cincinnati bumped off Philadelphia twice, 4-3 and 15-6, chasing their old teammate, Herm Wehmeier. The Redlegs scored nine runs in the first inning of the second game.

Cleveland hiked its American League lead to four games by beating their old Boston spartans around the head 3-1 and 9-2 while New York and Chicago were dividing two. Bobby Feller's five-hitter and Art Houtteman's 10-hitter both had home run help from Al Smith.

The Yankees managed 20 hits, including home runs by Bill Skowron, Gil McDougald, Mickey Mantle and Joe Collins in thumping Chicago 16-6 in the first game. Then Bob Keegan squared matters for the White Sox 3-2, becoming the first American League pitcher to win 10 games this year. The second game was held to eight innings by darkness. Sherm Lollar's two-run home in the seventh was the big blow.

Drop Eighth Straight

Baltimore's losing streak stretched to eight straight when Washington's Connie Marrero and Dean Stone pitched the Senators to a double victory, 7-1 and 7-2.

A Philadelphia-at-Detroit double header was rained out.

It was 6-3 in favor of St. Louis when the Giants cut loose in the sixth. After Willie Mays singled with one out, Hofman batted for Billy Gardner and homered. Westrum slammed the ball out to the left field roof, ending Raschi's day. Rhodes, batting for Marv Grissom, the eventual winner, blasted reliever Deal's first pitch into the lower right field stands for the winning run.

Saved For Erskine

Roy Campanella collected a bunt single, double and triple and Carl Furillo hit a three-run homer in Brooklyn's first-game triumph, in which Labine's stylish relief work saved the day for Carl Erskine. Milliken and Wade allowed three hits in the last 6 2/3 innings after Loes departed in the second game.

MONARCH Has 289

"My left elbow was a little stronger than Hogan's," said Furgol jokingly afterwards. "It kept me out of the rough." Defending champion Ben Hogan, seeking his fifth title, ended five strokes off the pace with a 289.

Furgol injured his left elbow at the age of 12 when he fell off parallel bars at Utica, N. Y. The injury never healed correctly and he was left with a crooked, cocked arm. Acting on doctors' orders, he took up golf to strengthen the arm and became an outstanding amateur before turning to pro in 1945.

His left arm came in good stead on the 18th when he hooked his drive into the trees. For a moment it looked as if the title was going to elude him. But the crooked arm guided a seven iron true as he came out on a fairway of another course, hit the green from the side and took two putts to get down.

Man With Purpose

However, not until he had clinched the title, when Little failed to drop an eight-foot putt on the 18th for a tie, did Furgol start talking. Not once during the three days did he engage in a conversation of more than two or three words as he paced off the distance between shots. He was a tight-lipped man with a purpose.

Between Little and Hogan in the final standings came Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., 286; Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, 288; Tommy Bolt, Houston, Fred Haas, New Orleans, Shelley Mayfield, Seguin, Tex., and amateur Jake Joe Patton, Morgantown, S. C., 289. Sammy Snead had 290.
